Frogs and toads are amphibians, animals who begin their lives in the water (breathing with gills) and then, during maturing, live on land (breathing with lungs). They need moist skin; they "bubble like." Frogs and toads are found all around the world, in all except Arctic/Antarctica.

Cat Progs and people are hungry.
Squirrels, small fish, mice and other tiny critters. They catch them with their long, sticky fingers.

Life Cycle: Like all amphibians, frogs spend their lives half water because they must return to the water to lay their eggs. Frogs and toads begin their lives as tiny eggs laid in clusters or even over the water. The eggs hatch into tadpoles that swim in fresh water and breathe with gills. As a tadpole grows, it develops legs and loses its tail. When this process is complete, the froglet breathes with lungs and lives on land.

Anthony Most frogs will reach sexual maturity in their adult form.
